IBAC Hails Coca Cola and Entergy as First IS-BAO Operators to Reach 15-year Milestone

LAS VEGAS, NV – 9 October 2017 – The International Business Aviation Council (IBAC) congratulates the flight departments of Coca Cola and Entergy on flying as IS-BAO-registered operators for 15 years, since the inception of the programme.

Launched in 2002, the International Standard for Business Aircraft Operations (IS-BAO) is a voluntary, global code of best safety practices for the business aviation industry designed by the business aviation industry. Tailored specifically for business aircraft operators, IS-BAO is built upon and consistent with the standards and recommended practices of the International Civil Aviation Organization and has the safety management system concept at its core. The Standard is recognized by several national regulatory authorities.

“IBAC is pleased to recognize the commitment and professionalism of the Coca Cola and Entergy flight departments,” said Kurt Edwards, Director General of IBAC. “The executives, management, and staff of Coca Cola and Entergy should be proud of the commitment to excellence and safety demonstrated by their flight departments’ continued participation in a global safety standard that counts nearly 800 operators worldwide.”

IBAC will recognize both flight departments and many others for their achievements at the NBAA Business Aviation Convention and Exhibition in Las Vegas, Nevada, on Tuesday, 10 October, at 4:30pm in the Connection Zone at the NBAA stand (C 8949).
